It is with mixed emotions that we celebrate the success of this tournament in Nate Edwards memory. Nate was a wonderful young man who left us too early. He would be so proud that his tournament will help out so many people.

Proceeds will be donated to the Nate Edwards Scholarship for Everglades City School, Autism Services of Florida and LARC. The 2nd Annual Nate Edwards Fishing Tournament will be in October 2023.

Sawfish News By Tonya Wiley

Officers with the Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission Division of Law Enforcement arrested two men in October for using an illegal gillnet near Everglades City and killing an endangered smalltooth sawfish. The men now face several misdemeanor and felony charges.

Sonja Fordham with Shark Advocates International, and a member of the U.S. Smalltooth

Sawfish Recovery Implementation Team stated "It's tough to read about the illegal killing of an endangered sawfish, but good to see FWC Officers taking the offense seriously and publicizing various aspects of the enforcement process. I'm hopeful law enforcement will also prioritize penalties for these individuals".

Gillnets are not selective therefore tend to catch both target and not-target species, which contributed to the decline of sawfish prior to the Florida gillnet ban in 1995.

If you see or catch a sawfish, follow the viewing and handling guidelines at SawfishRecovery.org then note its estimated total length, and the date, time, and your location with GPS coordinates if available.

Everglades Seafood Festival
February 17, 18, 19, 2023

The Florida Stone Crabbers Association (FLSCA) will kick off its 53rd Annual Everglades Seafood Festival on Feb. 17, 2023 outside Everglades City Hall, with an opening ceremony and a fireworks display.

Attendees enjoy live music, creative works from local artists, delicious seafood, cold beverages, and carnival rides.

This year, the festival's success is key, as many residents are still getting back on their feet after Hurricane Ian. "Homes and businesses were flooded for the second time in five years—first by Hurricane Irma, then Hurricane Ian," said festival coordinator Holly Dudley. "Families were displaced, and businesses worked hard to reopen, but we are bouncing back quickly. Funds from our 2023 festival will help the victims and commercial fishermen rebuild."

Friday night admission is free for all ages. Saturday & Sunday admission is a $5 minimum donation for adults. Children and residents of Everglades City, Chokoloskee, and Copeland receive free admission on all days.

The host, FLSCA, is a non-profit organization founded May 2020 to help unite stone crab fishermen and advocate for their best interests.

Everglades City is a major producer of stone crab and it is the festival's mission to support our local fishermen and the local communities that keep these hard-working people in business.

Everglades City Music Festival on January 14, 2023

Tickets are on Sale!

There will be two new faces joining the well-known regulars at the Musical Festival sponsored by the Everglades Society for Historic Preservation (ESHP) on January 14 at the Rod & Gun Club in Everglades City.

Sarah McCullough grew up in the nearby Big Cypress, so her album "The Sawmiller's Daughter" has a strong local connection.

And, for the first time, Tom "Skid Row" Skudiero, another Southwest Florida star, will also entertain us.

They will share the billing with popular names such as JRobert, Raiford Starke, Valerie C Wisecracker, Marie Nofsinger, and The Florida Boys.

They are all donating their time & talents to make it a fun day out that benefits ESHP and the "Save the Bank of Everglades Building" restoration project and ensures this classic 1927 edifice is available for future generations. The plan is to use it as visitor center, artists' gallery, and a communal meeting place.

The project and the event are being organized by the Everglades Society for Historic Preservation, a 501(c)(3) not-for-profit concerned with keeping the unique heritage and atmosphere of this remote rural town which was the first seat of Collier County back in 1923.

Collier County Solid and Hazardous Waste Management Division has reached its hurricane removal milestone ahead of schedule.

Residents of Evacuation Zone A, which includes the City of Naples, City of Marco and Everglades City, have until Thursday, Dec. 15 to place all hurricane debris at the curb.

“Despite the challenges the hurricane has brought, we are grateful for our progress in getting our community cleaned up,” said Division Director Kari Hodgson. “I’m pleased to report that we have collected 80% of the debris that has been placed at the curb. We realize that there is more to do and want to reassure our residents that all debris will be removed.”

For more information on the correct way to separate hurricane debris at the curb, visit colliercountyfl.gov/hurricaneprep. ### Everglades National Park reopens Everglades City location

On November 11, Everglades National Park reopened the Gulf Coast area of the park in Everglades City with limited services.

Restrooms, parking and the canoe/kayak launch reopened to provide paddlers with access to the 10,000 Islands and wilderness camping.

On November 20, Everglades Florida Adventures, the park’s authorized concessioner in Everglades City, resumed boat tours, rentals and the sale of retail and limited convenience items. Additional retail, food and beverage are available at their newly renovated building nearby.

“We are so pleased to welcome back visitors to our Everglades City location,” said Pedro Ramos, superintendent of Everglades and Dry Tortugas National Parks. “The devastation that Hurricane Ian caused has impacted us all. We are so fortunate to be able to restore these services for all to enjoy their national park.”

All areas of the park, including most backcountry campsites, are now open. Wilderness Permits for camping overnight in the backcountry can be obtained online at Recreation.gov or in person at the Nathaniel P. Reed Visitor Center in Big Cypress National Preserve.

American Red Cross Financial Assistance

Getting Your Card List Ready Can Be Sobering
By Rev. Bob Wallace

My wife opened a box the other day. It had in it the Christmas cards we received last year. Sending Christmas cards by "snail mail" seems a thing of the past, what with the price of Christmas cards and postage. Most Christmas greetings are sent by e-mail, text, or Instagram these days. But there weren't a lot of cards in our box. So, we went to the computer to see what our mailing list could provide in the way of sending Christmas cards, and you know what? It was quite sobering. So many people we know, or have known, have passed. You stare at a name, and it brings up a face in your mind's eye. You think of all the good times and precious memories you've had with that person. And now, they're gone. You may have taken trips with them. Visited in their home. Celebrated birthdays and anniversaries. Talked about their kids. You know, all that stuff. And now, they're gone!

So, we began talking about our friends, one by one. Some we had heard of their passing. Some we knew were in ill health. Some had lost a spouse or child. Then, we found a letter from a friend who always wrote a long letter telling about all the things they, and their children, had done the past year. Without a word between us, the letter was carefully put back into the box. It's funny how a letter like that can be a sobering reminder of our mortality and just how short life can be. But maybe, it can be a gift for this Season. How many friends have you told this year what their friendship means to you? How many get-well cards, or e-mails or texts have you sent with notes saying you hope they are getting better, and you look forward to seeing them again? How many phone calls have you made to your friends just to say "Hello"? How many times have you actually done something nice for your friends? It doesn't have to be much, because it's not just the thought that counts!

Well, it's time to get back to our Christmas list. A few names are missing this year, but new names have been added which makes the list worth its weight in gold. A friend is someone you've been close to for years. Or, it's someone who's becoming a new friend in your life. A friend could be someone you've bonded with over a favorite sport or tv show. A friend can come from all areas of your life. Most friendships involve someone who will be there for you, whether through simple words or by grand gestures. A friend isn't going to run away because they moved further away. Best friends know life gives many trials, and that's what makes friends stick with you through thick and thin. A good friend stays by your side and remains strong.

So, who's on your Christmas card list this year? Old friends? New friends? It's time to think of them and what they mean to you. Hold your friends close to your heart. Wish them a Merry Christmas, because it comes but once a year and brings with it the feelings, wonder, and memories to share for a lifetime. Light up the lives of those on your Christmas list with words that just might be what they need to cheer up their year.

Each day I am thankful for nights that turned into mornings, friends that turned into family, dreams that turned into reality, and likes that turned into love!

Exhibits and Events
Museum of Everglades
105 West Broadway Avenue
Everglades City, FL

About the Museum of the Everglades: First opened in 1927 as a commercial laundry, the building that now houses Museum of the Everglades is one of the historic structures still standing as a testament to the town's time as a once-bustling center of business and the region's first County seat.

November 1, 2022—February 11, 2023
Gearheads in the Glades

This exhibit thoroughly explores the ways that swamp ingenuity was used to modify machines and motor vehicles to traverse and tame the Everglades. Both airboats and swamp buggies were spawned by mixing surplus airplane parts with boats, cars, trucks, and tractors. The history of these hybrids and mechanical Frankenstein creations will be told, with both vintage photos and actual vehicles included in the displays.

December 15, 2022, 2:00 to 3:00 pm
The Art of Dick Jay

Museum of the Everglades Manager Thomas Lockyear will discuss the poignant and often whimsical way that artist Dick Jay captured historic events and personalities with paint and sculpture. Part primitive, part folk art, Mr. Jay's prolific work captured not only the essence of life in Florida's Last Frontier, but the spirit of the people living it..

February 14, 2023-May 13, 2023
The Story of the Southwest Mounted Patrol

When the Tamiami Trail opened to automobile traffic in April of 1928, it spanned over 100 miles of desolate sawgrass prairie and swampland.

The Southwest Mounted Patrol was not only the precursor to the Collier County Sheriff's Department, but also predated the Florida Highway Patrol by more than 10 years. This exhibit, featuring a vintage 1929 Harley-Davidson JD as its centerpiece, celebrates Collier County's colorful contribution to law enforcement history and the role of the motorcycle in taming Florida's last frontier.

History Corner
Museum of the Everglades

Take a leisurely drive across the "River of Grass" and spend a lazy afternoon exploring the rich history of nearby Everglades City. Once accessible only by boat, this remote frontier trading town took an ambitious new turn in 1923 as the base of operations for county founder Barron Giff Collier's construction of the Tamiami Trail (present-day US Highway 41) – a road across the Everglades.

First opened in 1927 as a commercial laundry, the building that now houses Museum of the Everglades is one of several historic structures still standing as a testament to the town's time as a once-bustling center of business and the region's first County seat. The museum's permanent and rotating exhibits provide visitors with an in-depth look at over 2,000 years of human history in the area and tell the stories of those adventurous enough – and tenacious enough – to settle "Florida's Last Frontier".

Faithfully restored to its original, 1920s Collier-era appearance, the museum is listed on the National Register of Historic Places and is located 35 miles east of downtown Naples and less than 100 miles from Miami.

The Friends of the Museum of the Everglades were instrumental in the conversion of the old Laundry building into a Museum.

The Pauline Reeves Gallery is a designated space of the museum used to showcase exhibits. Exhibits are changed throughout the year to bring a variety of stories, artifacts and pictures to the museum.

My Little Slice of Paradise

By Kathy Brock

I'm baaaack. As you know, the last edition of the Mullet Rapper was my final edition as publisher. And to mark my final issue, it was only fitting that I messed up the crossword puzzle!

Since that issue came out many of you have reached out to me to let me know how much you like the Mullet Rapper and how you enjoyed my tenure as publisher. A few of you also reached out to ask me if they were losing it or did I mess up the puzzle? No. You are not losing it! Yes, I botched the puzzle!

As evidenced by my aforementioned faux pas, my retirement did not come a day too soon. Today, I am simply a resident of Everglades City! And, as I understand it, there are about 10,000 islands out there to explore! And explore we will.

My goal for future columns is to write about some of our adventures in and around the Everglades area. Hiking, biking, and fishing, oh my. There are just so many things to do around here.

In the winter months, my absolute favorite thing to do is to go out and see the flocks of white pelicans on the outer islands. They gather in flocks of hundreds, and it is quite a spectacle! No matter how many times I see it, it never gets boring. If you are here and you have not seen them yet, make it a point to do so. Many of our private guides and boat tours regularly stop to see the beautiful birds.

Today, my toughest job is to balance my desire for birdwatching with Tim's desire to fish. The best day is a day we can do both.

Enjoying what you already have is something many of us forget to do. We travel to far-away places to see the sights and experience the visited area, but we often neglect to do the same things at home. How crazy is that when you live in a place as beautiful as this?

Yes, "retirement" does not mean that we are unplugging from this area, it means we are plugging into the vast expanse which is the 10,000 islands.

And, according to my calculations if we visit one island a day, it's about 27 years of adventures ahead. Let the fun begin! Now, that's retirement.

Sincerely, Kathy B
